Mega banner: many people signed messages against Violence Against Women

The people still got the message

The young man now had realized her mum had come to fight for his future ‘good life’ and he was really happy.

Avery Clear Message.

Duncan Folded the Banners after a very good day. "Message Passed on"

Change is a responsibility and is within the power of an individual.

We are individuals who believe we can change the way things are done, we can end Violence against Women. We can stop the habitual and socially ingrained violence that mars lives, destroys health, perpetuates poverty and prevents us from achieving women's equality and empowerment.

WE CAN END VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN.

YES.
